"We've made it easy for you to participate in Heart for the House in the way that makes the most sense for you. You can pledge to give using the cards provided or set up a recurring cash donation. But if your above-and-beyond resources are stored in assets other than cash, such as stock, IRAs, crypto, or even your DAF account, you can now give from those resources online through our partner Overflow. Not only can you use these resources to make an incredible impact in the life of our church and lives in our community, but it also is one of the most tax efficient ways to give. When you give these assets directly to the church and we liquidate it and put it to work for the Kingdom, you are not subject to capital gains taxes and neither is the church. Select an option below to participate in the vision God has given this house:
